Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-3 and 12-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hussmann et al. (5,284,448).

Hussmann et al., figure 1, disclose a pressure-tight contact device comprising an insulator (10) extending through a housing (13), a seal (17), a connector shell (24) of insulating material positioned on the insulator and affixed to the housing, a terminal socket including at least one contact pin (11).

Regarding claim 2, the connector shell is one of a set of interchangeable connector shells each having a different configuration suitable.

Regarding claim 3, the electrical device housed in the housing is a motor.

Regarding claims 12 and 13, the at least one contact pin is electrically connected to the electrical device and to a source of electrical current and to at least one additional electrical device disposed in the housing.

Art Unit: 2839

Regarding claim 14, a plurality of projections extending from the at least one contact member arranged and constructed to retain the at least one contact member in the insulator when the at least one contact member is pressed into the insulator.

Regarding claims 15 and 16, the connector shell including a bore or a channel for leak testing.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 4-11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

None of the reference discloses at least one contact tab mounted in the shell and the at least one contact pin elastically and electrically connected to the at least one contact tab, in combination with the other claimed elements of the embodiments recited.

6. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
